The way the tag has evolved has shown thought and analysis of what is needed by the end user.... But, more importantly, it’s part of a systemic approach.

We already had triage tags on our ambulances, but nothing more. The SMART system allowed us to expand our ability to respond to MCI.

...well designed with the EMS provider in mind. The card design is solid, so it tends to sell itself, but combined with the other stuff, it is tough to beat.

Eric Epley
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, SOUTHWEST TEXAS REGIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL FOR TRAUMA

I have been medical incident officer at many multiple casualty incidents, including terrorist bombings and hijackings. The Smart Incident Command System is by far the most practical, well thought out and ultimately relevant range of equipment that I have seen.
